

LeVar Burton: Sample Presentation Topics

Martin Luther King Jr.: The Man and The Myth

"Our lives begin to end the day we remain silent about things that matter" is one of the most famous quotes attributed to Dr. King, the truth is, there is no evidence to support that he actually ever spoke those words. In his speech, LeVar explores the conflicting nature of the man who was Martin Luther King Jr. as well as the mythical King of his legacy.

Storytelling in the Digital Age: Making a Difference in the Lives of Children

For the educational market, LeVar discusses the literacy problem in America, the future of the written word, and the impact of digital technologies.

The Power of Storytelling: Written, Spoken, Lived

An inspirational speech in which LeVar discusses his 3 storytelling mentors: Alex Haley, Gene Roddenberry and Fred Rogers. Their influence on his life and the world at large as well as the power of our own personal narrative is a secondary theme.
