

Sean Bott – Topic Description

Connect for Keeps

Attract, keep, and build thriving talent, teams, & organizations

People don't leave companies, they leave management (and really bad jokes). Often people trudge along in jobs where they feel unseen, and where their best efforts go unrecognized. They feel invisible. The tools in my signature keynote, clinically proven through various therapeutic modalities and self-compassion research, will teach your people how to make others feel understood, connected, and valued. Layer on truly memorable mind-reading moments and a few solid Dad jokes, and this keynote will be the signature event your people refer to again and again.

ROI & Key Outcomes:

- How to interrupt assumptions, fears, and past negative experiences
- Leading with warm authenticity
- The art of the triple nod
- Creating a strong social engine for positive momentum in relationship building
- Increasing discretionary effort
- Side aches after laughing so long
- Blown minds!
